SIMONA at PlastIndia 2012

Kirn, 30/11/11. In 2012 SIMONA will attend the 8th International Plastics Exhibition & Conference "PlastIndia" in New Delhi (February 1-6, 2012). At PlastIndia 2012 SIMONA will present solutions for industrial applications with particular emphasis on the materials PP, PPs, PVC-C-CORZAN, PVDF and E-CTFE. Furthermore, different types of backings such as polyester (SK), polypropylene (PK) and glass-fiber (GK) will be shown. The range of products on display consists of sheets, rods, welding rods, pipes and fittings. Displaying superior resistance to aggressive chemicals, these products are mainly used for chemical tank and equipment engineering. Consequently, our products are contributing to people's well-being and quality of life in various fields of application and offer high security and best-of-class quality.
